

THE JOHNS HOPKINS UNIVERSITY

BALTIMORE, MARYLAND 21218

DEPARTMENT OF BIOLOGY

January 24, 1984

Ms. Martha Schlesinger
National Director of Field Operations
American Committee for the Weizmann
Institute of Science
515 Park Avenue
New York, NY 10022

Dear Martha:

I enclose my introductory remarks for transmittance to Leon Schidlow in Mexico. I have tried to introduce enough scientific background relating to genetic engineering and agriculture to tie my remarks in with the establishment of the chair in photosynthesis that, I gather, will be the highlight of the evening.

Pat Montero mentioned to me, last week, that I should try to get my travel plans to you no later than January 31. As soon as I have consulted a couple of travel agencies, I will either make reservations or send you the numbers and times of the planes that my wife and I will be interested in getting on. We had thought of spending a couple of days after the meeting somewhere on a sunny beach, and I have to determine whether to go east or west. I will get this travel information to you very shortly. I look forward to receiving the final itinerary.

Best regards.

Sincerely,

Christian B. Anfinsen

CBA:djh

Enclosure